

CABO ROIG

Cabo Roig is an area just south of Torrevieja on the southern Costa Blanca in Spain, it is located on the Orihuela Costa, a beautiful corner of peace and harmony, where you can relax and enjoy.

The delightful residential and coastal areas of old Cabo Roig have broad avenues lined with palms and landscaped gardens and breathtaking views of the Mediterranean Sea to the La Manga peninsula and the Mar Menor, providing a picturesque setting alongside the lovely beaches.

The obtrusive white watchtower which is the most famous landmark of Cabo Roig dates from the 16th century and was originally built to warn off attacks from Berber pirates who assailed the coastline in those long gone times.

The Cabo Roig Marina is one of the best marinas on the Costa Blanca coastline. Above the marina is the pretty Cabo Roig to La Zenia cliff walk, which takes you on a journey to the Torre del Cabo Roig, a lookout point with stunning views of the beaches below and views to Campoamor and over to La Manga strip on the Costa Cálida.

Cabo Roig and the surrounding area is acknowledged by the World Health Organisation as one of the healthiest places in the world, this is due to its dry climate which is ideal for people who are unfortunate to suffer from asthma, arthritis and skin disorders like eczema and psoriasis.

Less than one hour's drive from Alicante - Elche International Airport and Región De Murcia - Corvera International Airport, Cabo Roig is definitely the "jewel of the Costa Blanca".
