

SANTA POLA

Santa Pola is a town located in the region of Alicante and slightly south of the principal city, traditionally a fishing town and is situated in an ecologically diverse area on the shores of the Mediterranean Sea. This section of the Costa Blanca presents visitors with excellent beaches and views to the salt marshes, the Sierra and Cape Santa Pola, a paradise for nature lovers. A superb residential, accommodation and recreational infrastructure is paired with the region's privileged micro-climate, this makes it quite enjoyable to take a walk around town or on the promenade and to enjoy water sports.